MINUTES by Fran Luft

The invocation was given by Bob Schwan. Visitors included Stan Zukin (a soon to be member), John Olszewski's son, Jack Linville, Gustavo Giacomini, Adrienne Masak's daughter and someone else (but I cannot read my own writing).

Birthday greetings were extended to Frank Helms. Joe Polito announced host families are needed for three students.

Scott Scribner announced the Chili Cook Off will be held October 5th. They are receiving money from corporate sponsors. Sixty teams will be participating. You must provide your own stove. EVERYTHING MUST BE COOKED FROM SCRATCH! There will be entertainment, a children's area and vendors' booths - to name a few. Press releases have been sent out. Forty judges will taste the chili. VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED.

Framed prints are available for $60 or $40. Gustavo thanked the club for his sponsorship. The Pot of Gold was won by one of Adrienne Masak's daughters.

SPEAKERS REVIEW by Fran Luft

Today the Rotary Club was honored to listen two outstanding classification talks.

BRONWYN MARTIN

Bronwyn was born in Perth Australia in the 60's and has a brother named Travis. She moved with her family to Chicago where her father earned his PhD. There she had jobs as a babysitter and as a caddy at a local golf club. The family then moved to Boston where her father taught at Boston University.

Bronwyn started a house cleaning business when she was 16 years old. She graduated from Boston University with a degree in Biology. She has done independent research at MIT and received her PhD from BU in Biochemistry. Bronwyn moved to Washington DC and did research on several drugs. She came to West Chester and held a position in medical writing. She is enrolled in the MBA program at West Chester University. Currently she is a financial advisor for American Express. Browyn founded the National Association of Female Executives.

MIKE ALFONSI

Mike presented his talk in Jeopardy fashion.

His mother was from Scotland, his father Italian. Mike played baseball in FDR Park in Philadelphia. He is a member of the Community Service Avenue- Community Development. For awhile Mike was in the seminary for youth ministry and non profit finance. His business is Analytical Results.

Mike was involved in youth outreach. STD Door to Door. He has worked with Ronald Reagan, Pope John Paul II, and George Will on financial matters.

He was shot in a robbery attempt in 1981.

Mike has a wife, Lynn, and two children, Adam and Alex.

Mike has taught financial management at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and at Berkley. Bill Winters introduced Mike to our Rotary Club. His philosophy on life is People, Process, and Technology.
